“ me and her had a great time we talked and just had an amazing time. As a daughter you never think your going to lose your mom at the age of 18. I think i took that for granted, i always thought she'd be there for me until i was in my middle ages. the thought that she won't be there when i graduate, or when i get married, or see her grand kids. in loving memory of a mother who did her best with what she was given. I love you mom!

“ I would like to offer my deepest condolences to your family. In times like these the Bible have proven to be of great comfort. The Bible book of John chapter 5 verses 28 and 29 holds out the hope of a resurrection for our loved ones who have past; and Joshua chapter 21 verse 45 let's us know that God fulfills his promises. I hope that these Bible verses will bring your family some comfort.

“ As we surrounded you one last time, a flush of emotions swam around our now heavy hearts. "There's only three girls now... and we must stick together." Elizabeth was saying as we were held together, kept from breaking down, by each other's arms. We were looking at pictures of our last visit together. In the pictures, we were goofing around and laughing. Silly pictures we didn't realize would mean so much to us later on. Your smile lit up any room. You should be here. Gone too soon. Your hair was curly, your eyes gently resting closed. You looked peaceful, asleep. We kissed and hugged you one last time as we held your hand and said goodbye to a longtime best friend. We will get through this, and we will live happy joyful lives for you. It's what you would've wanted. Karen Lynn Locey, we love you. Fly high beautiful, I hope heaven is everything you've ever dreamed of.

Until we meet again, your sisters:

Elizabeth Dougherty, Melissa Ann Locey, and Cassie Locey

“ We had graduated together the same year.
I am so sorry to hear about your loss. Karen was a good friend mine as well.

God Bless you and hugs!
